CRAZY STORY ABOUT ME: I hate the Tower of Terror. My brother is a wuss, and when our family went to Disney World, my parents made a rule that everyone had to try each ride once. I knew that begging to not ride the Tower of Terror (which I had ridden in California) would be to no avail, so I sucked it up and rode it. I started to cry on the ride (I was 20 years old) and when we got off my parents felt really bad. My little brother was like, "That was cool!" until he saw me crying then he started to cry too (he was 11 years old).
ANYTHING ELSE?: I love life and I love to learn!
