Appendix 2: Enlarging the dialog box.

When designing a report, the titles of the fields are cut-off. It makes it impossible to see which fields you are selecting. #frustrating!!!

There is a remedy (that has to be repeated every time you do this step -- grrrr.) The remedy requires two steps.
First, click on the bottom, right corner of the box and drag it down and right.

Click here. Hold. Drag.

The box should now be much wider. (This is only step 1)
Step 2 is trickier (this required some screen shots so sorry for the grainy quality).

1. Position your mouse between the two field boxes until the mouse pointer looks like this.
2. Click the mouse. Hold it. A thick, vertical black bar will appear. Drag this bar to the right to widen the field-section box.
If you have done it correctly, you can now see the entire titles of all of the fields in the selection boxes.
