USU Facilities is proud to announce Taylor Ransom as the Employee of the Month for February 2013.

Jeff Craw and Mark Ostergar said of Taylor, “He is great at communicating with his customers. He is eager to learn; both on the mechanical and technical side of things. Taylor has a great work ethic. He gets things done. He has a great personality; he is just a happy guy. He is a great example and his good attitude rubs off on those around him.”

Taylor has worked in the HVAC Shop at Facilities since October 2010. He works as an HVAC Technician III. Prior to working in Facilities Taylor worked at Napa Auto Parts for two-years. He also worked for his family’s business: J. Ransom Heating Inc.

Taylor is originally from Preston, Idaho. He lived in Logan for a short time while attending Utah State. He has since purchased a home in Preston, where he now resides.

Taylor is the youngest of four children. He has two sisters and one brother.

Taylor graduated from USU in 2012 with an Associate’s Degree of Science in General Studies.

Rob,

I just wanted to pass along how much we at the Utah Water Research Laboratory appreciate all the good work that Roy Hebdon and Brent Bair do for us. With both of these gentlemen working here our area looks wonderful inside and out! In my opinion, both of these employees do exemplary work and should be commended.

Jan Urroz, UWRL
