University Advancement is responsible for raising private funds for Utah State University. This responsibility includes every aspect of relationship building, from publications that keep donors connected and informed to groundbreaking ceremonies that thank donors for their gifts.

Private gifts to the University compensate for declining state support and enrich the whole campus with up-to-date facilities, cutting-edge academic programs, and exciting guest speakers and performers. These gifts also provide scholarships for deserving students unable to afford the cost of a higher education.

Contributions to Utah State University are recognized through membership in various donor clubs and activities, including the Old Main Society, the Big Blue Athletic Club, and the Alumni Association.

University Advancement provides professional assistance to the publics of Utah State University in the transmission of charitable gifts. For further information on how to transmit cash, securities, or in-kind property to the University through a number of tax-advantaged strategies, contact Angelina Wilkinson at: University Advancement, Main 101D, 1440 Old Main Hill, Logan UT 84322-1440, (435) 797-3885 or toll-free 888-OLD-MAIN (653-6246).

University Advancement also publishes Utah State magazine, the official publication of the University.

University Advancement

The Utah State University Alumni Association numbers more than 180,000 members. This membership includes all who have attended USU for one semester (or one quarter) or more, or who have served on the staff or faculty of the University.

The mission of the Alumni Association is to promote the interests and welfare of Utah State University, as well as that of USU alumni, students, faculty, staff, and friends.

The governance of the association is vested in the Executive Board. The board is comprised of the president and vice president of the association, the vice president of University Advancement, the president of the Associated Students of USU, the president of the Emeriti, the president of the Young Alumni, the president of the Student Alumni Association, a College Alumni/Development representative, a University faculty representative, the University Athletic Director, the director of Alumni Relations, the immediate past president of the association, and representatives of regional alumni chapters selected by the Council of Chapter Presidents with the approval of the Executive Board.

The Alumni Association is the medium through which former students maintain contact with the University and are served after leaving the campus. Efforts are made to maintain a complete record of every former student throughout life, and his or her accomplishments and progress are recorded. The association maintains alumni volunteers and chapter organizations throughout Utah and in major areas where former students are located. Through the association, former students are kept in contact with each other, and they meet and participate in business and social activities. They likewise assist the University with special projects in their areas.

The Alumni Association takes the leadership in sponsoring such campus events as Homecoming, Founders Day, Distinguished Service Awards, Aggie Family Day, and reunions. The association also provides opportunities for travel through the alumni travel program, and aids in athletic and other school activities.
