WHEREAS: The amount of course fees has grown significantly from $51,000 in 1980 to $408,030 in 1990.
WHEREAS: This additional cost for a student's education may impact significantly on his or her ability to meet education expenses.
WHEREAS: It seems appropriate that students have some input to a department's request to assess these fees.

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED: That Item 6 of Executive Memorandum 88-1 be revised to read as follows: A Course Fee Review Committee, composed of the Provost or representative, the Student Advocate Vice President, and a faculty member appointed by the Faculty Senate, will consider all requests departmental or college fees, including exceptions to the policy.

BE IT FINALLY RESOLVED: That a careful review of all course fees now collected be conducted to determine if proper approval and advertisement were given.
