Admission Requirements For This Major

1. New freshmen admitted to USU in good standing qualify for admission to this major.
2. Transfer students from other institutions or from other USU majors need a 2.5 total GPA to be admitted to the Environmental Studies major in good standing. Special attention will be given to the amount of, and performance in, prerequisite math and science courses.
3. The Environmental Studies major is open to all students who meet the above criteria, except for those with a first major or previous USU degree in Recreation Resource Management.

The Program

Unlike most other majors in the College of Natural Resources, the Environmental Studies major is not a single field of study leading to a specific profession. Instead, the curriculum emphasizes flexibility while preparing students who wish to pursue a variety of careers that involve people as well as the natural world.

Students begin the major by building the academic foundation for upper-division professional courses that explore the human dimensions of natural resource science and management. This foundation includes classes in mathematics and the biological, physical, and social sciences. The first two years are also when students take most of their University Studies (general education) courses, some of which also fulfill major requirements. Transfer students who have completed general education requirements elsewhere may need to take additional lower-division courses to be ready to start their professional courses.

As juniors and seniors, students take courses which more directly prepare them to understand the relationships between people and ecosystems. These include courses in plant and wildlife sciences, natural resources policy and economics, social impacts of nature, and spatial and quantitative analysis. Also at this time, students work with their advisors to develop an "area of emphasis" of 15 or more credits that is designed to meet their specific goals for careers or further education.

The Department of Environment and Society administers the Environmental Studies major and assigns departmental faculty to advise students in this major. Some students may wish to seek an additional advisor in another department, if that person has expertise in a field of special interest. Such arrangements should be discussed with the student's assigned advisor.

Career Opportunities

There are many career paths students may follow if they wish to take part in the protection and use of nature. The Environmental Studies major is designed for students who want to help set the future course of environmental and natural resource management, but who prefer not to work in a traditional land management profession. Students prepare for careers as environmental educators or communicators; with businesses that depend on natural settings or resources; in the legal profession; as environmental consultants; as advocates for environmental causes or natural resource constituencies; fostering sustainable development internationally or in the U.S.; or serving public land management agencies in nontraditional fields, such as public affairs, visitor services, or cultural resource management.

All of the careers listed above require an understanding of natural environments, but also an understanding of the human dimensions of natural resource management. For that reason, the curriculum emphasizes both biological and social sciences, with slightly greater emphasis on the latter. Environmental Studies majors learn about the ecology of natural areas, but also about the political, economic, geographic, and social aspects of nature and its management. Students focus on the natural resource and environmental issues confronting society, looking for solutions that can sustain both the natural environment and human communities.

Degrees and Programs Offered Through This Department

Environmental Studies: Bachelor of Science (BS)

Geography: BS, Bachelor of Arts (BA), Master of Science (MS), and Master of Arts (MA)

Recreation Resource Management: BS, MS, and Doctor of Philosophy (PhD)

Bioregional Planning: MS

Human Dimensions of Ecosystem Science and Management: MS, PhD

Ecology: MS, PhD

Natural Resources: Master of Natural Resources (MNR)

Academic Advisement

All students should contact their academic advisor for assistance with course selection, program planning, and meeting graduation requirements. If they do not know who their advisor is, students should contact the Department of Environment and Society (NR 201) or the College of Natural Resources Academic Service Center (NR 120).

University Studies Requirements for Environmental Studies Major

Credits

Note: Approved University Studies courses and requirements are listed in the back section of each semester's Schedule of Classes.

General Education Requirements (30-34 credits)

Competency Requirements (9-10 credits)

Communications Literacy (CL1 and CL2) (6 credits)

ENGL 1010 (CL1) (3 credits) or satisfactory AP, CLEP, IBO, ACT, or SAT score

AND

ENGL 2010 (CL2) (3 credits) or satisfactory IBO score

Quantitative Literacy (QL) (3-4 credits)

MATH 1050 (4 credits)

OR

One MATH or STAT course requiring MATH 1050 as a prerequisite

OR

Satisfactory AP, CLEP, IBO, ACT, or SAT score

Computer and Information Literacy (0 credits)

Passing grade on six computer and information literacy related examinations. Students must pass all six examinations before earning 37 USU semester credits.

Breadth Requirements (18-20 credits)

Select at least one approved course from each of the following six categories: American Institutions (BAI), Creative Arts (BCA), Humanities (BHU), Life Sciences (BLS), Physical Sciences (BPS), and Social Sciences (BSS). (CLEP or AP credit may be used.) At least two of the six breadth courses must be University Studies courses with a USU prefix (excluding USU 1000, 1010, 1100, 3330, 4900, and 6900). CHEM 1110 (BPS), BIOL 1010 (BLS), and ENVS 2340 (BSS) may be used toward this requirement.

Exploration Requirement (3-4 credits)

Choose an additional class from one of the following General Education categories: QL, BAI, BCA, BHU, BLS, BPS, or BSS. GEOG 1000 (BPS) or GEO 1110 (BPS) will fulfill this requirement for students in the Environmental Studies major.

Depth Education Requirements

Communications Intensive (CI) (2 courses)

WATS 3700, plus another course having CI designation, will meet this requirement.

Quantitative Intensive (QI) (1 course)

ENVS 3500 will meet this requirement.

Depth Course Requirements (4 credits minimum, including 2 credits minimum completed in each of two courses)

Complete at least 2 credits in approved 3000-level or above courses from each of the following two categories: Humanities and Creative Arts (DHA) and Life and Physical Sciences (DSC). Either HIST 3950 (DHA/CI) or PHIL 3510 (DHA) and either WATS 3100 (DSC/CI) or ENVS 3600 (DSC) will meet this requirement.

Environmental Studies Major Requirements (84-87 credits)

All courses required for the major and minor must be taken on an A-B-C-D-F basis. A grade of C- or better is required for all ENVS or GEOG courses taken to meet requirements for the major. Students graduating in this major must have a 2.5 or higher GPA in all courses taken from departments within the College of Natural Resources.

Effective Summer Semester 2006, some course numbers changed, due to House Bill 320 (Common Course Numbering). Course numbers used prior to Summer Semester 2006 are shown in parentheses, following formerly.

F. Area of Emphasis (15 credits)

Students majoring in Environmental Studies are required to select an emphasis of at least 15 credits to complement their general professional foundation. Students must file an approved emphasis plan prior to applying for graduation, but it is recommended that they meet with their advisor to develop and gain approval for the emphasis no later than midway through the first semester of their junior year.

Complete 15 credits chosen from one of the following seven emphasis areas:

Environmental Stewardship

In consultation with his or her advisor, a student may develop a custom emphasis of at least 15 credits. Students pursuing this option must fill out an emphasis form describing educational goals and specific courses to be taken. A University-approved minor may be used to meet this requirement, subject to approval by the student's advisor and department head.

G. Electives

Students may take the remainder of the 120 credits from any department. The guidelines described previously under "Breadth Requirements" and "Depth Education Requirements" should be consulted to ensure meeting University Studies Requirements.

Students who transfer to USU with an Associate of Arts (AA) or Associate of Science (AS) degree from an approved institution will have satisfied the General Education portion of the University Studies requirements, but will still need to complete the Depth Education portion.

Environmental Studies Major Recommended Four-Year Plan of Study

Students should meet regularly with their faculty advisor and carefully plan their academic program, keeping in mind that many upper-division courses have prerequisites and must be taken in sequence. Students following the recommended schedule listed below should be able to complete degree requirements in four years (eight semesters).
