Fourth Annual Timber Harvest Tour

Wednesday, October 19, 2005

Join us for the fourth annual Timber Harvest Tour near Scofield, Utah; where we will examine a current timber harvest in a mixed conifer stand. Rarely seen ground skidding machines (FMCs) are being used on this privately owned property. Foresters from Carbon County, the Utah Division of Forestry, Fire and State Lands, and USU Forestry Extension will be available to lead a discussion and answer questions. The purpose of this tour is to provide an opportunity for landowners to see a timber harvest up close, and to better prepare themselves for forestry practices on their own property, but is open to anyone interested. This tour brought to you by USU Forestry Extension with support from Carbon County and USDA Forest Service State and Private Forestry.
