Forest Use and Management on the North Slopes of the Uinta Mountains
Friday and Saturday, June 21 and 22, 2013

Friday June 21
3 pm – Meet at the Evanston Museum (1020 Front Street)
   Museum Tour
   Joss House - Chinese worker history
   Machine Shop and Round House
5:30 pm – Dinner at Dunmar Inn/Best Western in Evanston (1601 Harrison Dr.)
   Order off the menu- eat in the restaurant
6:30 pm - Evening Presentation in Directors Room/Best Western
   Joel Frandsen - Bear River Riots of 1868
   Jim Ayres - Tie hacking on the North Slopes

Saturday June 22
8 am – Meet at USDA Forest Service office off Highway 150 to carpool. Bring your own lunch and drinks. We will return to Evanston between 4 and 5 pm.
   • Piedmont charcoal kilns and ghost town between Evanston and Mountain View –
     Dr. Thomas Straka, Clemson University, and Doug Page, BLM
   • Stop at old logging camps from 1870s and early 1900s - Jim Ayres
   • Gilbert Creek “Operation Pushover” from 1960 - Liz Hebertson and Joel Frandsen
   • Current Salvage Logging - Ed Coates
   • Dahlgreen Aspen Burn - Ed Coates and Dale Bartos
   • Aspen Chaining on Whiskey Springs - Dale Bartos and Joel Frandsen

By COB May 16, please let Frank Roth know if you think you’ll attend (and for which activities) in order to get a rough idea of attendees. BY COB June 14, we’d like to have a more accurate commitment. Call or e-mail Frank (801-782-3118) or frankandsusanroth@msn.com

Non-members and guests are welcome.
Meal Options (Friday evening, June 21)

Meals start around $10 and go up

Cash Bar (not included with meal price):

Housing:

The Dunmar Best Western (307 789-3770) in Evanston has a block of rooms reserved for the night of Friday June 21. The room cost starts at $89 (before taxes) for up to four. You will need to make your own room reservation; the rooms are being held under the Society of American Foresters May 30.

Additional visitor Information and housing options: http://www.visitevanston.com

Note:

Blue Grass, Brats, and Beer Festival

in Evanston

on both Friday and Saturday nights.

As always, non-members and guests are welcome.