

Exercise: Choppy Sentences

Connect the following choppy sentences by linking them together.

- The Romans claimed descent from Troy. They claimed, in particular, the Trojan hero Aeneas. He is a hero in Homer. Homer's epics do not record his death. He is like many other mythological heroes of this age. A later Greek author composed a saga about Aeneas. After the Trojan War, he wandered around the Mediterranean. He went from Troy to a new homeland in Latium.

Use the right (or down) arrow key to see the answer/s

Exercise: Choppy Sentences

Connect the following choppy sentences by linking them together.

- The Romans claimed descent from Troy, specifically the Trojan hero Aeneas, one of the few such heroes whose death is not recorded in Homer. As with so many of the mythological heroes of this age, a later Greek author composed a saga about Aeneas' wanderings subsequent to the war, in this case, from Troy to a new homeland in Latium.

Exercise: Choppy Sentences

Connect the following choppy sentences by linking them together.

2. We hold these truths to be self-evident. All men are created equal. They are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights. Among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. We need to secure these rights. That's why Governments are instituted among Men. They derive their just powers from the consent of the governed.

Use the right (or down) arrow key to see the answer/s

Exercise: Choppy Sentences

Connect the following choppy sentences by linking them together.

2. We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness, that to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.