

Women's Experiences in Faith Communities: Your Story Matters

The Utah Women & Leadership Project at Utah State University is conducting a confidential study on how faith communities support—or fail to support—women during times of crisis or trauma (USU IRB 16107). Women (18+) who have experienced sexual assault, domestic violence, divorce, or another major life disruption while participating in a faith community may choose to participate.

Interviews will be one 60-90 minute interview in person or via Zoom.

If you are interested, you can use the QR code to take a brief screening survey. You can also learn more by contacting Dr. Susan R. Madsen – susan.madsen@usu.edu.